

Request for Minnesota Street Market to Stock Local Traditionally-Published Author's Book

Traditionally published authors have a contract with a publisher who prints, publishes, and sells the book through distributors and retailers, handles all transactions, and pays the author a royalty from the sales. Traditionally published authors and Minnesota Street Market staff, member/owners, and customers may make a request that we purchase a traditionally published title for resale, if the author works or lives in central Minnesota and the book fits one of 3 categories.
